TROWBRIDGE'S LAST AND GREAT WORK!

THE NEW STORY

OF

THE THREE SCOUTS.

By the author of "Neighbor Jackwood," "Cudjo's Cave," "The Drummer Boy."

NOW READY.

A FEW OPINIONS OF THE CRITICS:

TROWBRIDGE'S NEW BOOK—THE THREE SCOUTS.—The scene of this stirring narrative is laid in the State of Tennessee during the second year of the rebellion. The events of the war in that region afford material for a variety of spirited sketches, and are here wrought up by the author with his usual skill in dramatic delineation and picturesque effect. His work cannot fail to occupy a high place among the numerous successful stories which have turned the facts of history to more impressive purposes than are often realized by the inventions of fiction.—New-York Tribune.

A well-wrought tale of the war in Tennessee, full of the excitement, the hair-breadth escapes, and the thrilling adventures in which that portion of the theatre of war has abounded. Nor is it exaggerated or unnatural, unless in the crowded and rapid movement of the narrative, scarcely giving the reader a resting place from one scene of romance to another. Mr. Trowbridge's books are deservedly popular, and THE THREE SCOUTS lacks none of the elements which have gained its predecessors such a "run."—American Presbyterian, Philadelphia.

THE THREE SCOUTS.—By J. T. TROWBRIDGE. 1 vol., 12mo. Boston: J. E. TILTON & Co. This is by the author of "Cudjo's Cave," a tale of the war, which was very popular. "The Three Scouts" is much better than its predecessor. Mr. Trowbridge is an old contributor to this magazine, and is one of the most painstaking and workmanlike writers in the country. He paints from real life, not from books; writes good, honest English; and is singularly free from sensationalism, considering the times in which he lives.—Peterson's.

THE THREE SCOUTS.—By. J. T. TROWBRIDGE, author of "Cudjo's Cave," "The Drummer Boy," etc. J. E. TILTON & Co., Boston. The author has won for himself a wide popularity by his former works. This book will increase his reputation as a standard writer. It is less sensational; it has more depth of feeling, and a higher tone of thought and action. But as the subject is similar, and some of the characters are familiar, the reader will feel himself at home still, with his favorite author of these books for the times.—Lady's Book.

The talented author of this story of to-day has ventured to complete with it a trilogy of which "Neighbor Jackwood" and "Cudjo's Cave" are the first and second dramas respectively. The readers of these two novels will encounter familiar characters from each in THE THREE SCOUTS, of which the scene is laid in Tennessee, like that of its immediate predecessor. All the praise which has been bestowed upon "Cudjo's Cave," as a work of art and as a delineation of the present war, belongs to its sequel; but we still incline to believe that Mr. Trowbridge's power is greatest when touching his mother-earth—when he paints the scenery and the people of New-England, in ordinary times, or when its free atmosphere is stirred by the invasion of a fugitive law, and a choice presented between loyalty to God and obedience to the adversary. "Neighbor Jackwood" strengthens the remainder of the series, while they can lend nothing in return. Its interest is not weakened by the revolution which relieves Vermont forever from the dread of human bloodhounds.—New-York Independent.

THE THREE SCOUTS. By J. T. TROWBRIDGE. Boston: J. E. Tilton & Co. 1865. Price, $1 75.—Another tale of the war, and abounding in exciting incidents and graphic descriptions. The scene is laid "down in Tennessee," and the characters which figure in it are well conceived and admirably sustained throughout. It is a fitting companion to "Cudjo's Cave," which it excels in interest.—Phrenological Journal.

Readers of Mr. Trowbridge's war novels will be delighted to find in THE THREE SCOUTS many earlier friends and foes. Carl, the young German who added so largely to the interest of "Cudjo's Cave," reappears with only a little more down on his lip, and as much bravery, artlessness, and available innocence as ever. He is one of the "three scouts," and our sable friend Pomp is another. The story borrows from "Neighbor Jackwood" Enos Crumlett and his wife 'Tildy, whose married meanness is by turns laughable and tiresome. Young Alfred is every inch a hero, the enigmatical Daniels is well drawn and sustained, and many minor characters are successful hits. For spirit, incident and truthful portraiture, the book is fully equal to anything the author has written.—Springfield Republican.

THE THREE SCOUTS, just published by Tilton, is a sequel to "Cudjo's Cave," by Mr. Trowbridge, and carries on the story of some of the characters of that popular tale. Our old friend Enos, of "Neighbor Jackwood," also figures here. The humor and incidents of the book are in the author's well-known style, while the plot will attract many readers. The book is beautifully printed.—Commonwealth, Boston.

THE THREE SCOUTS.—This book, by Mr. Trowbridge, author of "Cudjo's Cave," is a story of the war. The scene is laid in Tennessee, when Rosecrans and Bragg faced each other in front of Nashville, and the characters present the variety and the odd mixture of Western, German, Border State and African elements, which the war has brought together in that region. They are drawn with a free pencil, with strong lights and shadows, and strike the reader as portraits, while the incidents have an interest which is often thrilling.—Boston Advertiser.

Trowbridge's new war story, THE THREE SCOUTS, has already passed to its tenth thousand, and promises to have a larger sale than "Cudjo's Cave." It is certainly an improvement on that popular book. The passages of description are vivid and brief, the course of the narrative rapid, and the representation of the characters close to nature and life. It is impossible to open the volume at any page without being struck by the quick movement and pervading animation of the story.—Boston Transcript.

THE THREE SCOUTS. By J. T. TROWBRIDGE. Boston: J. E. Tilton & Co.—The war is furnishing the material for much of the light literature of the day. The author of this tale has already attained great popularity by his previous productions in the same line, and this volume is no wise inferior to them in romantic and thrilling incidents, hairbreadth escapes, well-sustained characters and an exciting plot. There is rather too much of the marvelous in this tale to suit sober tastes, but its patriotic spirit and stirring scenes will insure a large circulation in the army as well as at home.—New-York Observer.

It bears the same relation to the present war that Cooper's "Spy" does to the Revolution.—Gazette.

Mr. TROWBRIDGE'S last novel, THE THREE SCOUTS, has achieved a wonderful degree of popularity, which even envy must admit to be well won. A tale of the secession war, it abounds in adventure, and is full of those scenes to which such a contest must give rise, in which the valor and genius of daring spirits are happily displayed. Mr. TROWBRIDGE never fatigues his numerous readers by repetition, but from the stores of his inventive mind he draws ever new materials for the maintenance of that interest which he creates at the very beginning of his stories. Never was this peculiarity of his more signally displayed than in the THE THREE SCOUTS, which, to our mind, is the very best of his very clever productions. The book is very handsomely printed.—Boston Traveller.

J. T. TROWBRIDGE, the author of "Cudjo's Cave," "The Drummer Boy," etc., presents the public another book, to which he gives the above title. In it the reader renews his acquaintance with Dutch "Carl" and "Pomp," the scout of the Cumberland. It is written in the same vein as Cudjo's Cave, and affords about the same variety of character quite as well delineated, and of incidents fully as well related, as did the previous work. The thousands who read that book will welcome this opportunity to renew old acquaintances, and repeat their pleasures.—Morning Bulletin Norwich, Conn.

As a tale it is a worthy companion of its predecessors from the same pen: spirited in incident, lively in style, and graphic in delineation.—Daily Press, St. Louis.

Mr. Trowbridge is the most successful war novelist of the day. His "Cudjo's Cave" was extensively read, and pleased immensely. THE THREE SCOUTS seems to us, from a hasty scanning of its pages, to be still better. It is a study of life along the border during the terrible scenes of the present war, written graphically, and possessed of the most thrilling interest. Adventures among guerrillas, scouting experiences, the perils of picket life, the sufferings of Union men in the disorganized regions of the South, the spirit and devices of loyal negroes—all these furnish a splendid and fresh field for the pen of the novelist. Mr. Trowbridge has well improved it, and produced a work of more than ordinary merit. It is by far the most vivid description of border life we have yet seen. We predict for the work a brisk sale and wide circulation.—Commercial Advertiser.

GRANT'S NEW CAMPAIGN.

Grand Movement of the Army of the Potomac.

Sheridan Striking for the Southside Railroad.

His Forces Heard from at Dinwiddie Court-House.

Our Main Column Across Hatcher's Run.

Skirmish and Defeat of a Rebel Division.

The Rebels Deceived as to Grant's Direction.

THE ADVANCE SO FAR SUCCESSFUL.

REPORTED FIGHTING NEAR FORT STEADMAN.

The Rebels Repulsed in Attempts to Break Through Our Lines.

RUMORED EVACUATION OF PETERSBURGH.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Friday, March 31.

The latest intelligence from the Army of the Potomac is up to noon of yesterday, at which time no general engagement had been fought, and no fighting of any kind had taken place, save desultory skirmishing. The particulars of reported engagements given by the afternoon papers here are merely guesswork.

A large force is thrown to the west side of Hatcher's Run as a support to SHERIDAN'S powerful column, which will strike for the Southside and Danville Railroads.

It is apprehended that this movement may precipitate an attack from the enemy, who, in order to interrupt SHERIDAN'S operations, must come out of his works to make the attack.

On Wednesday night the rebels opened with their artillery on the line in front of Fort Steadman, conveying the impression that they were either expecting an attack or about to make one. It lasted two or three hours. But aside from a few wounded there was no other result.

This is all that there is from the front of a trustworthy character.

DETAILS OF THE MOVEMENT.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Wednesday, March 29, 1865—Evening.

The route taken by a portion of this army is the same over which it has traveled several times heretofore, namely: the Vaughan and Halifax roads, running southwest across Hatcher's Run.

The column started at 3 o'clock this morning.

A large cavalry force, under Gen. SHERIDAN, took the Halifax road toward Dinwiddie Court-house.

The infantry column crossed Hatcher's Run on the Vaughan road, but met with no opposition until they reached within a short distance of the Boydtown plank-road, where the enemy's pickets were found and driven back.

GRIFFIN'S division was sent up the Quaker road, and about three o'clock in the afternoon a division of the enemy made its appearance, and not knowing the strength of our force, formed in line and charged, but the rebels were repulsed with heavy loss. A number of prisoners were taken and brought in. They said the move had been a complete surprise to them, as they had expected an attack in the vicinity of Fort Steadman, and that their troops had been massed there to meet it.

It is believed that the rebels were hurrying men toward the South Side Railroad all the afternoon, in the hope of being able to prevent its destruction. But great confidence was felt that SHERIDAN would be a little ahead, and that by the next night we would have news of its destruction at some point near Burkesville.

If this should be accomplished, it is claimed that the evacuation of Petersburgh and Richmond must follow.

The Locality of Our Army—The Fifth Corps Has a Sharp Encounter.

WASHINGTON, Friday, March 31.

Information from the advance of the Army of the Potomac, dated Hatcher's Run, Thursday morning, shows the locality of our army under Gen. GRANT, at that time, to be in a line parallel with and east of the Boydtown plank-road and west of Hatcher's Run.

These important positions have been gained with but little resistance from the enemy.

The Fifth Corps had a sharp encounter with the enemy on the Quaker road, on Wednesday, but lost in the affair less than three hundred men, and drove the rebels nearly a mile, with severe loss to them, and captured a number of prisoners.

Reported Fighting near Fort Steadman—The Rebels Repulsed in Attempts to Break Through our Lines.

WASHINGTON, Friday, March 31.

It is reported, but not authenticated, that the rebels, during Wednesday night, made several attempts to break through our lines, in the neighborhood of Fort Steadman; but our forts and artillery opened on them a terrible fire, which as often drove them back in confusion, until they abandoned the contest.

Gen. Sheridan at Dinwiddie Court House—His Destination the South Side Railroad.

WASHINGTON, Friday, March 31.

Richmond papers of Wednesday report that Gen. SHERIDAN passed Dinwiddie Court House on Wednesday morning, and they think his destination is the South Side Railroad.

Commanding in the Direction of Petersburgh—A Battle Probably in Progress.

WASHINGTON, Friday, March 31.

Information from City Point, dated at 2 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, says that very heavy cannonading commenced at 10:30 o'clock on that morning, and was very furious until 1:30 in the afternoon, in the direction of the Petersburgh front.

A battle was probably in progress, but no particulars were known at City Point at the time the mail-boat left.

A Rumor of the Evacuation of Petersburgh.

BALTIMORE, Friday, March 31.

The flag-of-truce boat Manhattan arrived at Annapolis this afternoon, with 750 released Union prisoners.

The Manhattan brings a rumor that Petersburgh had been evacuated.

The Move Commenced—Changes of Position—Rebel Watchfulness—Skirmishing—Heavy Bombardment.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Wednesday, March 29—11 P. M.

The Army of the Potomac, except two corps, moved out of the works to-day, toward Dinwiddie Court-house, and took up a position on the northwest side of the Vaughn road, where they went into camp. I am not now at liberty to state what troops moved, nor give the exact location. Gen. SHERIDAN accompanied the army with a considerable portion of his cavalry.

The movement of a portion of this army necessitated a considerable change of position among the troops remaining; but the entire front line is still held intact, and seems likely to be for some time yet.

The rebels have been very watchful of our movements, and though they did not offer battle up till the hour (5 P. M.) that I left the extreme new front, their skirmishers were continually before us, retiring as we advanced. We took some ten or twelve of them prisoners. One of their forts on the Boydton plank-road, near the Quaker road crossing, opened upon our line, but fired only a few shots, all of which fell short.

This evening, from 10 till 12 o'clock, there was a terrific bombardment between the forts on our right, in front of the first and second divisions of the Ninth Corps. The sight, from the position I occupied, was sublimely grand. Large clusters of shells could be seen passing each other in mid-air, moving slowly and regularly, until the bright star-like spark, which gradually lessened, disappeared, and in its place was a bright flash of incandescent matter, which immediately faded into a little white cloud. The suddenness of these changes and the silence of the explosions caused the scene to be of more interest than the most fantastic pyrotechnic displays, and I could enjoy them greatly were it not for the reflection that each shell may strike the life out of some poor fellow-being who is exposed to them.

On the north side of the Appomattox and James all is quiet. We still hold the line, nor do I believe there is any intention of abandoning that position.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

Reports From Virginia, North Carolina and Alabama—A Supplementary Report From Lee—Raving About Union Prisoners—Preparations for the Defence of Mobile—THE LINES BEFORE PETERSBURGH.

THE MOVEMENT TOWARDS THE SOUTHSIDE RAILROAD.

From the Richmond Dispatch, March 29.

All is quiet, as usual, on this side of the James. On the south side nothing of importance has occurred since the fight of last Saturday, in the vicinity of Hatcher's Run. There was a flying rumor yesterday that the Yankees made a move toward the Southside Railroad, but we know this was only a guess founded on the knowledge that SHERIDAN had joined GRANT.

From the Examiner of the 29th.

There has been great and unwonted activity in GRANT'S lines, in moving his troops by his new railroad in sight of our lines, probably intended as a feint to deceive Gen. LEE; but that Commander is not very easily humbugged.

EAST TENNESSEE.

MOVEMENTS OF GEN. THOMAS.

From the Richmond Sentinel, March 29.

THOMAS, having transferred a portion of his army at Knoxville and united with GILLEM, is said to be moving in the direction of the Virginia line. At last accounts the command had reached the vicinity of Greenville, a little over half way from Knoxville to Bristol. The expedition is accompanied by an engineer's corps of two thousand men, who are engaged in rebuilding the railroads as fast as the enemy marches. Communication with the base at Knoxville will thus be kept up.

The object of the expedition is no doubt Western Virginia, and, if practicable, to move on and capture Lynchburgh, thus cooperating with GRANT and compelling the evacuation of Richmond.

The scheme is well conceived, but it will be apt to miscarry in the execution, just as others have.

ALABAMA.

DEFENCES OF MOBILE.

From the Richmond Dispatch, March 29.

From Alabama and Georgia, news to the 26th inst. is that the preparations for the defence of Mobile are very complete. Provisions for a six months' siege have been accumulated. Gen. TAYLOR had done everything for a successful defence of the city.

The demonstration against Mobile and the flank movements from Pensacola and Milton are still threatened.

NORTH CAROLINA.

From the Richmond Dispatch, March 29.

We are still without later advices from North Carolina, later than Gen. JOHNSTON'S report of the battle of Fayetteville, which we published more than a week ago. When last heard from, SHERMAN was at Goldsboro, and we think it likely he is still there resting and recruiting his men after their tramp through South Carolina. The Yankee papers say he will direct his columns against Raleigh.

GEN. JOHNSTON AND HIS ARMY.

From the Richmond Whig, March 29.

The Raleigh Progress learns that since Gen. JOHNSTON'S restoration to the command of the Army of Tennessee, thousands of the soldiers, "absent without leave," have returned to their old chief. Instead of demoralization, the Army of Tennessee is now buoyant, and follow with pride the standard of their former commander, whom they seem to love and reverence as children do a father. And besides the Army of Tennessee, JOHNSTON now has in his command troops that have never been demoralized—that have never known the definition of the word defeat. With such an army, the probabilities of success amount almost to a certainty. Well may SHERMAN cast about him for some mode of escape. His rapid career is not only checked, but he is brought to a dead halt.

AN UNIMPORTANT DISPATCH FROM LEE.

The following dispatch was received at the War Office, yesterday:

HEADQUARTERS, March 28, 1865.

Hon. J. C. Breckinridge, Secretary of War:

Gen. GORDON informs me that in his report of the action at Hares Hill, on the 20th inst., he omitted to mention that Col. H. F. JONES, commanding the artillery on that portion of the lines was at the front, superintending in person the operating of the artillery, and that a select body of officers and men, under the command of Lieut.-Col. STARLING, charged the enemy's breastworks with the sharpshooters of one corps and immediately turned upon the enemy the captured guns.

(Signed) R. E. LEE.

AFFAIRS IN RICHMOND.

Specie and Banks—Estimate of the Strength of the Rebel Armies—Will Richmond be Evacuated?—Stephens to Wind up the Rebellion.

A correspondent of the Washington Chronicle, who was confined six months in Castle Thunder, writes as follows of the condition of affairs at the rebel capital:

One hundred dollars were paid me in Confederate scrip for one dollar in gold, at Castle Thunder, last Saturday. Outside the Castle, I could have received one hundred and twenty-five. Greenbacks I bought at thirty-five Confederate scrip for one. Outside the Castle they are worth about forty-five.

I paid last week thirty-five dollars per dozen for eggs—before SHERIDAN tore up the canal I got them for twelve. I paid six dollars per pound for flour last Friday, and thirty-five for sugar (brown.) Tea is one hundred dollars per pound, coffee forty-nine and fifty, bacon eighteen dollars per pound, beef fifteen.

The following estimates of the army I arrived at in this way. Men from each regiment in the service were in the Castle when I was, and in the hospital many more. From each I would obtain, as far as he knew it, the strength of his regiment, compare his statement with that of others, add up the final number agreed on for that regiment with the numbers given as that of regiments in the same brigade. To the aggregate, giving the number in the brigades, I added these, found the strength of the corps, and so on. From such calculations I conclude that LEE has now before and between Petersburgh and Richmond 66,000 men; and that JOHNSTON had, up to last week, 42,000, 4,000 of which are cavalry. JOHNSTON'S force is thus divided: BRAGG, 5,000; HARDEE, 8,000; HAMPTON, (cavalry,) 4,000, and BEAUREGARD 18,000. BEAUREGARD'S army is sometimes called JOHNSTON'S army, just as the Army of the Potomac is styled GRANT'S army; but JOHNSTON has no particular army, being in command of all the forces in North Carolina.

The writer of this letter was confined in Castle Thunder six months, and under the head of special cases, might give an indefinite number, any one of which, ere this war, would have sent a thrill of horror through the country; but from the mass I will be dainty, and select only a few.

In the hospital of Castle Thunder, in ward B, in bed No. 45, lies an idiot boy, a Virginian, son of a widowed mother aged fifty. This idiot is her last child. She had four—two fell at Fredericksburgh, and one at Gettysburgh. This idiot is now between seventeen and eighteen years old, and is to be shot next Tuesday for sleeping on his post. The boy is insane beyond all peradventure. The mother has no tie on earth but him. It is hard, but "discipline must be maintained; an example must be made; and the idiot, not fit for a soldier, will do for an example." And what of the old mother? Judge BAXTER, Confederate States Commissioner, says: "She'll be relieved of the charge; and the boy is fit for nothing else." The boy's name is NIXON. More than twenty exchanged citizens now in our lines can witness to this. What on earth will BAXTER be fit for when the Confederate States no longer needs a commissioner?

There is a cell in Richmond (Castle Thunder) known as cell No. 3. This cell is four feet eight inches high. McCOOL, private in HARRIS' light dragoons, a man measuring six feet and half an inch, was kept in the cell eleven months and a half. Cardinal BALUE'S oubliette may be read as obsolete elsewhere, but in Richmond it is only obsolescent. McCOOL had a ball and chain on his leg all the time, the ball weighing thirty-two pounds, the chain ten pounds. The rain penetrates that cell, and on wet days McCOOL lay in the wet. Eleven months and a half passed, and he never once stood straight. He escaped five weeks since through a hospital window. He had been transferred, sick.

The gold and general assets of the Merchants' and Mechanics' Bank were positively removed from Richmond three nights before McCOOL'S escape. They went on the Southside road. Whether they were forwarded to Danville or to Lynchburgh from the junction I had no means of ascertaining with positiveness, but I think they went to Danville. The two percussion cap factories have gone the same road, all but the walls. The main part of the machinery of the Tredegar Works is boxed up. Part of it went the same way as the specie. The other banks moved their specie in the same manner a week later.

The different Government hospitals have sent out agents to procure a supply of food for their various institutions. Endeavors to hurry up negro drill and negro enlistments are daily made, and all guns, shot or rifle, are gathered in Richmond, and none have been sent away.

DAVIS, BENJAMIN and others of the government, spend their days urging the collectors of gold and silver under the late specie act. Their nights are spent at MYERS' over an innocent game of cards. Many of the religious people, the "unco righteous," say the cause of the Confederacy was lost by "the two Jews," BENJAMIN and DAVIS; and even ministers remark that in all his solemn appeals, DAVIS never once has asked for aid through the channel by which Christians are taught to expect it. "A republic without freedom, and a civilization without Christ," is what STEPHENS is accused of calling the Confederacy.

There are about ten days' supplies for the army in Richmond. The army is not daily fed from these now, but from what daily arrives on the strap-rails that constitute the Danville and Richmond Railroad.

There will be no counter revolution, and no firing Richmond. There is too much money and tobacco there to make a Moscow of it. LEE will not surrender, but probably, like NAPOLEON at Leipsic, cut his way southward for the States SHERMAN has passed. He could be made to capitulate like MACK at Ulm, but only by the moral force of STEPHENS, and STEPHENS, not LEE, will yet finish this business. He is working away, and in the right direction, too. I would here add that the senior and junior reserves of Virginia and North Carolina are almost to a man leaguers.

Every preparation was made for heavy fighting on the 21st inst., and the sound of artillery came down the bay all day yesterday, and was distinctly heard at Fort Gaines.

High winds are prevailing to-day, and the sound of the artillery has ceased.

The results remain yet to be learned.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Friday, March 31.

PRISONERS AT POINT LOOKOUT.

There are now at Point Lookout about 6,000 prisoners. There have been no deliveries for exchange for the past ten days. All the prisoners captured in the late engagements before Petersburgh were brought to Point Lookout. It is a curious, but, nevertheless, reliable fact, that among the prisoners thus captured on March 25, and delivered at Point Lookout March 27, were a number who had only been released from that prison on March 17. This had a very disheartening effect on those who were anxious to be exchanged, and the number averse to going back to the rebel service is daily increasing. DAVIS gives his released men no furloughs.

A DESERTED WHITE HOUSE.

The Presidential mansion presents a quite deserted appearance, so far as its occupants are concerned. Mr. LINCOLN and his entire family are still absent. Secretary NICOLAY is down the coast, and the throng of applicants for Presidential attention have dispersed. Maj. HAY does the honors ad interim.

RETURNED FROM THE SOUTH.

CHAS. A. STEVENS, Esq., a prominent man in business and political circles in Wisconsin, who was captured while purchasing cotton on the Mississippi, more than a year ago, was released by SHERMAN from captivity, at Columbia, S. C., has arrived here. Mr. STEVENS' opportunities for observing the inside arrangements of the Confederacy were very extensive and made excellent use of them. His description of the terrible demoralization of the South both moral and physical is very thrilling.

NUMBER OF REBEL DESERTERS.

The number of deserters from LEE'S army registered at the Provost-Marshal's office in this city since the 1st of February, is forty-one hundred, or in other words, a full division of healthy, vigorous soldiers. A still larger number have deserted to the rear of the rebel army.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

DESERTERS FROM THE REBEL ARMY.

During the month of March, 2,860 deserters from LEE'S army were received in this city, to all of whom the oath of allegiance was administered. This is a considerable increase over the month of February, during which only 1,239 were received.

QUARANTINE WAREHOUSE AT NEW-YORK.

SIMEON DRAPER, Esq., Collector of the Port of New-York, left here for that city this evening. He has been authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury to proceed at once to Albany and confer with Gov. FENTON in relation to the legislation required by the State of New-York in connection with the Quarantine warehouse authorized to be constructed by an act of the last Congress, and for which $20,000 were appropriated.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PRESIDENT.

The President has not yet returned from Virginia. It is said that on Wednesday he rode out to the front with a number of distinguished officers.

BOUNTY BROKERS SENTENCED.

The finding and sentence in the DEVLIN and CAHILL, (New-York bounty-brokers) cases, tried before Gen. BRAGG'S Military Commission, of which Col. N. C. CHIPMAN, War Department, is Judge Advocate, have been confirmed by the Secretary of War. JOHN DEVLIN was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary and fined three thousand dollars; JAMES DEVLIN, seven years and five thousand dollars fine; JOHN CAHILL, five years' imprisonment. They are to be sent to Clinton prison. This is the first instance of a large batch of similar cases, and which bring to light the immense frauds practised on the Government. Steps are being taken to bring to justice these offenders in other parts of the country, and prevent a recurrence of the frauds. The commission is going forward rapidly in the examination.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

ALBANY, Friday, March 31, 1865.

The entire Assembly woke up this morning with a consciousness that it had been engaged in a farce. The performances of last evening are regarded this morning as "very peculiar." Members who were especially prominent in talking about bribery and an Investigating Committee apparently feel very nervous, and manifest a disposition to be disagreeable, if they can find any pretext for doing so. One of the first things this morning, Mr. CRAMER challenged account of the clerk upon a standing vote. Mr. VAN BUREN was sure the clerk was correct. Mr. CRAMER knew he was not. Several members called for the appointment of tellers. The Democrats persuasively recommended Mr. CRAMER to withdraw his challenge, and he seemed inclined to do so. Other members, and especially Mr. VAN BUREN, insisted that the charge had been too serious to be withdrawn, and it must be looked into. So the Speaker appointed Messrs. CRAMER and VAN BUREN tellers, and there was a long succession of risings up to be counted and sitting down and then having to rise up again, because the tellers could not agree in the count. The tellers stood in the clerk's desk and had a fair view, but could not agree, and the farce ended by both going to their seats, each declaring that he was in the right. Mr. VAN BUREN had the Clerk and Speaker both with him in the count as he declared it, and Mr. CRAMER'S arithmetic may be supposed to have been at fault.

Most, or perhaps all of those who voted for the appointment of an investigating committee last evening, admit that the whole investigation must end in nothing, or, rather, there very confidently affirm this; but still, they argue, it would not do to oppose the measure lest they should be suspected by their constituents. It is quite plain that there is nothing to investigate, or that can be investigated. In the course of the three hours' oratorical scolding and scouring, not to say clawing, that took place last evening, the only clear specific charge that could be made out was the assertion, that one member had said to another that there were five hundred reasons why he should vote for the Paid Fire Department Bill. After a protracted discussion, consisting only of sharp, confused personal remarks, mixed up with a great deal of incoherence and noise, Mr. TURNER, of Queens, gained the floor. He it was that had made the charge, that five hundred dollars had been offered for a vote, understood to be his own vote. That charge he made during the calling of the roll, on the passage of the Paid Fire Department Bill in the afternoon yesterday. When he got the floor, therefore, last evening, there was for a few moments a great silence. The hubbub was quisted, and members listened in solemn stillness and awe, to hear the words that came slowly and with careful emphasis from the member from Queens. He affirmed that a member had told him that there were five hundred reasons why he should vote for the Fire Bill! He stated moreover that he had replied that he would not vote for the bill if there were a thousand reasons offered for voting for it. This was deemed rather vague and indefinite by several members, and hardly sufficient to found an investigation upon. In the course of the talk that followed this astounding revelation on the part of the gentleman from Queens, many gentlemen learned for the first time that in the lingo of the lobby five hundred reasons means five hundred dollars. Mr. SALMON, of New-York, when he heard the explanation of the gentleman from Queens, very sensibly withdrew the resolutions he had offered providing for an investigation. Other members, however, took occasion to affirm their own honesty, and insisted upon the appointment of the investigating committee. The conscience of the Assembly was imperious, and the committee has been appointed. This morning the committee are quizzed and often asked when they intend to meet. It is well known that the office of such committees is simply to whitewash the Assembly; and the impression is that such a process will not now, at this late stage of the session, be gone through with in very good style. Perhaps there was never an investigating committee appointed upon so slight a pretext, or one whose office has been regarded more in the light of a joke.

The bill providing for the erection of a new capitol at Albany passed the Senate to-day. The bill providing to change the police system of Buffalo passed the Assembly.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

ALBANY, Friday, March 31.

DAMAGES BY THE FLOOD.

Mr. COLE introduced a bill making appropriations to pay the expenses of repairing the damages done to the State Canals by the recent floods, which appropriates to the Eastern Division $90,000; to the Middle Division $193,000; and to the Western Division $110,000.

BILLS REPORTED.

Mr. ANGELL reported a bill allowing the Central Railroad Company to charge 2½ cents per mile for way fare. The bill is entitled "Relating to Railroads." It was introduced by Mr. CRAMER in January, but a majority of the committee have amended it so as to apply this provision to the Central Railroad. Mr. HOBBS, minor of the committee, dissents.

For the incorporation of Village Water Companies in Kings and Queens Counties; for a railroad in Orange County; authorizing the consolidation of certain Brooklyn railroad companies; relating to brokers' rates of commission; and to amend the Excise Law.

(A majority report reduces the license fee in the country from five to one dollar, and cities from ten to two and a half dollars; authorizes licensing of restaurants and repeals the clause requiring twenty freeholders to sign the petition. Mr. FOLGER dissents.)

For a Police Court in New-York, (referred to New-York Senators;) relating to the Police and Justices' Courts of Brooklyn; conferring additional powers on the Arbitration Committee of the Chamber of Commerce; incorporating the Longshoremen's Protection Association of Brooklyn; incorporating the Brooklyn Musical Loan and Savings Society; incorporating the New-York and Brooklyn Floating and Storage Petroleum Company; incorporating the Eastern District Library Association; incorporating the Atlantic Base Ball Club; for the payment of certain extraordinary expenses of Brooklyn.

BILLS PASSED.

Incorporating the Fire Benefit Association of Flushing; to amend charter of the Bloomingdale Savings Bank; to amend the Quarantine Act.

To regulate the storage of petroleum in cities in this State.

To change Mutual Life and Traveling Insurance Companies.

Amending charter of the French Benevolent Society of New-York.

To provide for the erection of a new capitol.

The bill to facilitate the acquisition of lands for the Croton Water Reservoir, was returned from the Executive Chamber for correction, and on motion of Mr. ANDREWS, expenditures under the bill were limited to $300,000. Passed.

EVENING SESSION.

The bill amending the Registry Law was taken up as the special order. It provides that Inspectors and Canvassers of Election in New-York and Brooklyn shall be appointed by the Commissioners of the Metropolitan Police, who shall also designate the places for holding the polls; also that they may select inspectors from districts other than where they are to act.

Mr. FIELD moved to strike out this last clause.

Mr. FOLGER stated that the last clause was inserted because he was informed by gentlemen from New-York that there are districts in that city that do not contain four persons who are qualified to act as inspectors.

Mr. FIELD denied this, and, on motion of Mr. LAW, an amendment was adopted restricting the selection to the Assembly District within which is located the election district.

Mr. SHAFER moved to strike out the clause which provides that unless the elector's name is on the registry when the polls opened he shall not vote. He said that such a proposition would work great hardships to the electors throughout the State, but especially in the Metropolitan districts, where, under this law, they are denied the right to copy poll lists of the proceedings of elections, and where an elector's name may be stricken from the registry on the affidavit of two men who may commit perjury. If stricken off he has no remedy, for there is no provision to notify him, and when he presents himself to the polls he is denied the right to vote.

Mr. FOLGER said he regarded the clause which prohibited the reception of votes from unregistered voters on election day, the very backbone of this bill, and without it he would regard the measure as utterly worthless. The present law is a delusion and snare; under the pretence of excluding unregistered votes, it permits votes to be received upon an affidavit taken amid the hurry, bustle, crowd and jostle of the polls on election day, without care or consideration; such affidavit, being too often from heedlessness or design, utterly false. If a registry law is to be of any use, it must provide that the right of voters shall be ascertained with care and deliberation; and when once the register is concluded, it must be final. He cared not for the details of the bill, or how the idea was carried out. But unless this provision was incorporated in it, he cared not for the bill.

Mr. HOBBS thought there was nothing in the history of the voting in our State which would justify such a prohibition. It is contrary to the spirit of our constitution, if not to its letter as well. That instrument empowered the Legislature to determine the right to vote; but it was never intended that it should have power to deprive the voter of that right, provided he possessed the constitutional qualifications; that the power to regulate the exercise of the right to vote was not a power to deprive a voter of that right. He referred to article 2, of the constitution.

Mr. STRONG gave notice of his intention to move to strike out the clause empowering Police Commissioners to appoint inspectors and canvassers of election in Brooklyn.

Progress was then reported.

ASSEMBLY.

ALBANY, Friday, March 31.

COMMITTEE ON BRIBERY.

The Speaker announced the following committee under the resolution relating to charges of corruption on the passage of the Paid Fire Department Bill: Messrs. Pitts, J. L. Parker, Crandell, Sumner, G. Parker, W. Clark and Lockwood.

The Soldiers' Voting Bill was referred to a select committee of seven, with instructions to report to-morrow morning.

BILLS PASSED.

For the better regulation of the State Inebriate Asylum; to extend the time for the collection of taxes in Oneida County; relating to Justices and Police Courts in the City of New-York. Lost.

THE DRAFT.

Fifth District.

Drafting in this district for the Tenth Ward was resumed yesterday morning. The quota of this ward has undergone a reduction of 32 since the draft commenced, and, if money be forthcoming, will be still further reduced before notifications are sent to the conscripts. The deficiency of the ward is 680—and the per centage added 1,360—a reduction of 64, compared with Tuesday last, on the whole number.

The draft for the Tenth Ward was completed yesterday. The Provost-Marshal announced that this morning the balance of the quota of the Seventh Ward will be drawn, being only 319 names.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

All except two corps of the Army of the Potomac started early on Wednesday morning for a demonstration toward the Southside Railroad. SHERIDAN, with a heavy force of cavalry, took the advance, and early on that day was at Dinwiddie Court-house. Our advices represent no fighting of consequence up to Wednesday evening. The infantry crossed Hatcher's Run without opposition, and kept on until 3 in the afternoon, when the Fifth Corps had a pretty sharp encounter with the enemy on the Quaker Road, but lost in the affair less than 300 men, and drove the rebels nearly a mile, with loss to them, and captured a number of prisoners. At City Point, on Thursday, heavy cannonading was heard from 10 A. M. until 1½ P. M., but the reason thereof was unknown. It was guessed, however, that the rebels were making an attempt to break our lines near Fort Steadman. Our last dispatches this morning bring a rumor of the evacuation of Petersburgh.

We have New-Orleans papers to the 21st. There is nothing in them directly referring to the movement on Mobile. From another source we learn that our forces are waiting orders to march to whatever point that may be ordered. It is regarded by some doubtful if all the troops will move to Mobile. However this may be, it is believed Mobile will not hold out very long. Deserters cross the lines daily. They state there are only about 900 men left to garrison the city. Of these most are old men who are heartily sick of the war. Provisions are dear, and the poor in great distress. Citizens think it is the intention of the General in command of Mobile to fire the city when it is attacked. A dispatch by way of St. Louis, dated at Mobile Point on the 22d, speaks of a reconnoissance and the driving of the rebels some distance. Heavy firing was heard up the bay all day on the 21st.

A man who escaped a few days ago from Castle Thunder, gives some interesting facts about affairs in Richmond. He says there were evident signs of evacuation; the assets of the banks had been sent off by the Danville road; the machinery of their two percussion cap factories had gone in the same direction, and much of the machinery of the Tredegar iron-works had been packed up ready for shipment. The rebel army has not more than ten days' supplies in the city. This informant sold a gold dollar for one hundred dollars in the rebel currency just before he escaped. Tea was $100 per pound; coffee, $50; bacon, $18; beef, $15, and eggs rose, in consequence of SHERIDAN'S raid, from $12 to $35 per dozen. Nothing has been heard from ALEX. H. STEPHENS, who seems to have abandoned JEFF. DAVIS to his fate.

In a recent letter to his father at Covington, Ky., Gen. GRANT says: "We are now having fine weather, and I think will be able to wind up matters about Richmond soon. I am anxious to have LEE hold on where he is a short time longer, so that I can get him into a position where he must lose a great portion of his army. The rebellion has lost its vitality, and if I am not mistaken, there will be no rebel army of any great dimensions a few weeks hence. Any great catastrophe to any of our armies would, of course, revive the enemy for a short time, but I expect no such thing to happen."

The Philadelphia Press says: "We have seen a private letter from one of the most illustrious military men of the times, in which, after speaking with much humanity of the betrayed Southern masses, he says: 'Now, mark me! DAVIS, HUNTER, COBB, and the rest, will call upon our armies, the Union armies, when peace has been conquered, to save them from their own people.'"

We have Richmond papers of Wednesday, but they do not contain any news of great importance. They report that Gen. SHERIDAN passed Dinwiddie Court-house on Wednesday morning, and they think his destination is the Southside Railroad.

A Newbern letter of the 28th says that all is quiet there, our army at Goldsboro enjoying a little rest. SHERMAN and HOWARD will forthwith move their headquarters from Savannah to Newbern.

The mail train on the Baltimore and Ohio road, which left Baltimore on Thursday morning, was captured by guerrillas sixteen miles east of Cumberland. The passengers were robbed and a part of the train burned.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, yesterday, a bill was offered to repair damage to canals, caused by recent floods. A bill was reported to allow the New-York Central Railroad to charge two and a half cents per mile on way fares. Bills were reported to consolidate Brooklyn Railroad Companies; to amend the Excise Law by reducing the rate of license; for another Police Court in New-York; also a dozen or more bills incorporating companies. The bill to provide for the erection of a new capital was passed; also the bill to regulate storage of Petroleum in cities. The evening session was devoted to discussion of the amended Registry Act.

In Assembly the Speaker appointed a committee to investigate charges of corruption. The Soldiers' Voting Bill was referred to a select committee, with instructions to report this morning. The bills to incorporate the German-American Colonization Society, and relative to the Department of Survey of Buildings in New York were passed.

GENERAL NEWS.

Several intelligent Georgians visited the Philadelphia Inquirer office on Wednesday evening. They say that the desertions from LEE'S army average over a hundred every day. The whole rebel force in front of GRANT cannot, in their opinion, exceed forty thousand men, and if it should continue to be depleted at the rate mentioned, cannot long be available for evil. They say that STEPHENS left for the South immediately on his return from the late Peace Conference, and refused to have anything more to do with the Confederacy.

The St. Louis Republican of the 25th says that an order was received by the Provost-Marshal General yesterday, from President LINCOLN, directing that the order of banishment in the case of Mrs. EWELL, wife of the rebel Major-General, be revoked upon her taking the amnesty oath. In regard to Mrs. EWELL'S money and property which had been seized by the Provost-Marshal and held for confiscation, nothing was said in the President's dispatch. The presumption is that her property and money will be restored to her.

Mr. JOSEPH BRIDGHAM, long a resident of New-York, son of SAMUEL W. BRIDGHAM, of Providence, R. I., died a few days ago at Providence. For fifteen years he held the appointment of United States Commissioner, and for a portion of the time that of Deputy Clerk of the United States District Court, presided over by Judge SAMUEL R. BETTS.

Miss MARY HARRIS, who it will be remembered shot A. JUDSON BURROUGHS, a Clerk in the Treasury Department, in one of the halls of the building on the 30th of January last, was arraigned in the Criminal Court, at Washington, on Wednesday. She plead not guilty. The time of the trial was not fixed.

LOCAL NEWS.

Within the past ten days orders for our national gold-bearing bonds from buyers for permanent investment, have been executed in this city to an amount exceeding twelve millions dollars—leading to the permanent withdrawal of unusually large lots of the U. S. Sixes, as well as of the 10-40s, from the market. Thrifty people have a very decided partiality for the stable Government Securities, in these times of violently fluctuating commercial values, especially when U. S. Six ℔ cent. Bonds of 1881 (with a three months' coin interest on, equal to $2 25 in currency with gold at 150) can be purchased at 105@105½, as against 112@113½ this day a year ago; U. S. 5-20s (with five months' coin interest, on, equal at present to $3 75 in currency) at 105½@105¾, as against 110@111 this time last year; and U. S. 10-40s yielding a five ℔ cent. ℔ annum coin interest, equal to $7 50 in currency at prevailing rates for gold) at 91½, or 8½ ℔ cent. under par. These most secure and desirable investments cannot long remain depressed to these low figures, in view of the encouraging military prospect, and the proximate close of the war—so vastly ahead of anything of this nature that could have been even reasonably hoped for in the Spring of 1864. Prudent people, therefore, merely take advantage of the present rare opportunity to buy them freely.

The Board of Aldermen, at the meeting yesterday, received a communication from the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, stating, that as the Legislature has just passed an act empowering the Governor to appoint four commissioners who shall take charge of all the property, apparatus, &c., belonging to the present Fire Department, and as the Common Council has the sole control of the property of the department, he awaits instructions before taking any action in the matter. In connection therewith, a resolution was adopted, appointing a Joint Special Committee to take such action in the matter as may be requisite. The Board of Supervisors were requested to empower the County Committee on Volunteering to appoint a paymaster for each Congressional District for the purpose of paying the County hand-money. A communication was received from the Mayor recommending the Common Council to apply to the Legislature for authority to issue bonds to the amount of twenty millions of dollars for the purpose of raising funds for securing volunteers, which was referred to the Committee on National Affairs. The board then adjourned.

The new series of the National 7-30 Currency Loan has been marketed, thus far, at the average rate of $2,500,000 per day, or $15,000,000 per week. At even this moderate rate of distribution the whole series ($300,000,000) will be disposed of in twenty weeks from the day on which it was first formally opened to popular subscription, March 28. As business recovers from the effects of the late financial panic, consequent on the precipitate fall of gold from 200 to 150, the demand for the Loan will, undoubtedly, become much more active, and lead to even a more rapid absorption of the notes than that now in progress.

Mayor GUNTHER yesterday issued a proclamation to allay the excitement which exists among the members of the Fire Department, relative to the passage of the Paid Fire Department Bill. One hose and two engine companies have closed their houses. It is understood that the others will assist at any fire that may occur in their immediate vicinity. The Police Department has made arrangements for suppressing any disturbance that may occur, and for supplying the place of any companies that may refuse to act when required.

The affairs of the draft proceed with much moderation. Eighty-seven men were enlisted on Thursday; $35,100 were obtained by Gen. ANTHEN for the County Recruiting Fund, and $53,000 were paid in to the same fund by subscribers. Several ward meetings were held to promote volunteering. The drafting in the Fifth District, Tenth Ward, was finished; that in the Seventh proceeds to-day, as does that in the Eleventh and in the Nineteenth. On Monday the Twenty-first work is to be drafted.

The funeral of Mr. JACOB LITTLE took place yesterday afternoon, at Grace Church, a large number of the friends of deceased being present.

The Board of Councilmen met yesterday, but transacted no business of importance.

Transactions in Produce and Merchandise, yesterday, were light, though buyers had any existing advantage. Flour declined 15c.@35c. ℔ bbl.; Wheat and Oats, 3c.@5c.; Corn, 5c., ℔ bushel; New Mess Pork, $1 50 ℔ bbl.; Whisky, 2c. ℔ gallon, closing quite heavily. Sales of extra State Flour, for delivery in June, were reported at $7@$7 25 ℔ bbl., or about $2 ℔ bbl. under the average of present prices for that grade of Flour, a very significant circumstance. The auction sales of Dry Goods passed off tamely and unsatisfactorily, owing partly to the storm. The Freight market was extremely dull and heavy.

The Railway Market was 4 to 6 per cent. higher yesterday than on Thursday. Gold about the same, closing 51½ per cent. Governments in firm demand. Money easy at 6 per cent. to the brokers.

Last evening Gold opened at 151 and closed at 151¼.

Southern Loss of Confidence in the Rebel Leaders.

Either the leaders are known to be liars or the led are proved to be cowards. The Fortress Monroe conference was no sooner closed than the rebel chiefs raised the cry that President LINCOLN had insisted upon a most degrading submission of the South—a vassalage that would be eternal infamy to accept, and that was an intolerable insult to propose. The darkest colors were used to paint the shame, the misery, the ruin which would overspread the South if the Lincoln policy were suffered to prevail. Every manly sentiment in the human breast was appealed to in order to stir anew the spirit of resistance, and cause a universal rally to the flag. At the mass meeting in Richmond, Senator HUNTER asked if it were possible to present higher motives to engage zeal or rouse activity; and Senator BENJAMIN declared that the failure of the conference would be the signal for a grand uprising of the people.

If the representations of the Confederate chiefs were believed to be true, most certainly the Southern people ought to have responded instantaneously to the calls made upon them. A people should shed its last drop of blood before yielding to a despotism that would grind them in the style said to be determined upon by President LINCOLN. Resistance might cost life, but death itself would be preferable to such a fate. There is an instinct even in barbarous natures, that would revolt against it. Much less would any civilized people bend to any such degradation. Yet the Southern people have remained now for six weeks absolutely motionless under all these instigations and appeals. We do not hear that a single new volunteer has shouldered his musket, or that a single old deserter has returned to his flag. We do not learn that a solitary dollar has been contributed to the exhausted rebel treasury. On the contrary, not a day has passed that has not witnessed scores and hundreds of desertions from the limited armies now in the field; and harder efforts than ever, among the people, to save what little they have left from the clutches of the Richmond Government.

Now, how can this conduct be accounted for? What means this supineness under such tremendous incentives? Are the Southern people so pusillanimous that they have made up their minds to accept ignominy and ruin, rather than do what they can to defend themselves? Frankly, we do not believe it. Whatever else may be said of them, they certainly are not cowards. It is no easier to make a vassal of a Southern man than of a Northern man. He has in like measure that American spirit which will sooner die than crouch. It is impossible to think so poorly of those who have once breathed free American air, as to imagine that they would ever cease to fight for their freedom against any tyrant that should try to rob them of it. Were this so, they would be unfit to be Americans, and not worth bringing back to the national flag. Any future connection with with them would be a disgrace and a curse.

The only possible explanation of this backwardness is that the Southern people have no real belief of the representations of their leaders that President LINCOLN means to degrade and ruin them. Hard experience has cured them of their old credulity. They know that they were first precipitated into the rebellion by statements and promises which have not been in any way verified. They remember that they were told that the Northern people were too cowardly to fight; that foreign Powers would stop the war were it begun; that the Democratic party would divide the people, and paralyze the government; that the Chicago platform would prevail, and be followed by a recognition of Southern independence; that our treasury would become bankrupt; that our armies could never be recruited. They recall countless other assurances that the result has disproved. It would be extraordinary, indeed, if their faith in the veracity and the prescience of their leaders had not become by this time pretty well used up. It is not in human nature to be cajoled for any great period before such constantly recurring proofs of imposition. The rebel leaders no longer obtain the trust they once did. They have some material power left, but have lost their moral influence. Thus it is that all their late misrepresentations concerning the purposes of Mr. LINCOLN have failed of effect—have not lighted a spark where once they would have made a universal blaze.

We may rely upon it that it is not in the the least necessary for President LINCOLN to counteract, as some have asked, the falsehoods of the rebel leaders by a fresh proclamation announcing his disposition to treat the Southern people, after their submission, fairly and generously, and in accordance with the great principles of constitutional liberty. The Southern people understand this well enough already. What keeps them from returning to their allegiance is not fear that this will prove otherwise, but the fact that they are kept in duress by the Richmond Government. So long as that government stands, all proclamations to the Southern people would be useless. When that government falls, the popular submission, in all likelihood, will come quickly enough, and cheerfully enough. The characteristic kindness and magnanimity of Mr. LINCOLN will be manifested immediately in every suitable way; and the Southern people, there is every reason to believe, will respond like men who are wise enough to profit by experience.

The Advance of the Army of the Potomac.

The anticipated advance of a large portion of the Army of the Potomac seems to have been delayed but for the briefest possible space—if at all—by the ineffectual effort of LEE to resume the offensive in front of Petersburgh.

A powerful infantry and cavalry force, under the immediate direction of the Lieutenant-General, cut clear away from its base before daylight on the morning of Thursday. Its direction was by the routes which have been tried with varying success on more than one occasion before. The infantry, or a large part of it, took the Vaughan and Halifax plank-road toward Hatcher's Run. The cavalry, under SHERIDAN, was pushed forward by the directest road for Dinwiddie Court-house, a point about half way between the Weldon and the Southside Railroads, or about fifteen miles distant from each, and the same distance south by west of Petersburgh.

From Dinwiddie Court-house SHERIDAN'S presumed course would lie in the direction of Burkesville, at the junction of the Southside and Danville Railroads; and striking for that point, he would have a twenty mile ride from Dinwiddie Court-house to the Southside road, and eighteen miles more to Burkesville. The entire distance, then, from the starting-place to the junction of the two roads that now keep open communication between LEE and JOHNSTON, and supply Richmond with provisioning, would be about fifty-three miles. And unless SHERIDAN has met with some unexpected opposition, it is probable that by the time this goes to press, his gallant troopers will have effectually cut LEE'S line at both the Southside and Danville roads. The chances are many to one that Burkesville station is to-day in SHERIDAN'S possession. And if so, the evacuation of Richmond can hardly be other than a matter of almost instant necessity. LEE, at least, will have to come out from behind his intrenchments, and strike whatever blow additional he can, in the open field, at the powerful advancing army of which SHERIDAN'S horsemen are the heralds.

An attempt to check the advance of our infantry seems to have been made by a rebel Division under GRIFFIN, near the Boydtown plank-road, on Thursday afternoon. But the resistance appears to have been of the feeblest kind, and probably was only attempted in the hope of gaining some delay to enable LEE to count his chances in the new emergency. The delay of this advance of our army, which was doubtless attributed by LEE to GRANT'S fear of risking the possibilities of another desperate series of sorties like those of Saturday, seems to have put the rebel General altogether off his guard. The prisoners taken confess that the movement was a complete surprise. And to this fact possibly it will be found that we shall mainly owe the success, at least of that part of the programme which Gen. SHERIDAN has been instructed to carry out. At the last moment—when the real scope of Gen. GRANT'S movement came to be understood—desperate efforts seem to have been made by LEE to hurry forward whatever force he could spare for the defence of the Southside Railroad. As SHERIDAN had sufficient time to strike that road at an early hour yesterday, it is altogether probable that he has headed off LEE'S defensive force; and that both Richmond and Petersburgh are to-day completely isolated from every portion of the Confederacy outside of Virginia.

THOMAS' legion is sweeping down through the mountains of Southwestern Virginia—effectually barring every footpath of egress for LEE in the direction of East Tennessee. JOHNSTON is so perfectly powerless either to strike SHERMAN in his front, or to bring up his shattered forces to the aid of his Chief, that the Richmond papers confess that he has not been heard from since the battle of Fayetteville. It seems, then, scarcely any longer open to us to question, that this accursed rebellion is soon to receive its final blow almost within sight of the Confederate capital, and in the very heart of the commonwealth which has been, for four years, the mainstay of the conspiracy.

THE BLOCKADE-RUNNING INTEREST.—Advices from London announce the failure of one THOMAS STERLING BEGBIE, for the sum of half a million dollars or thereabouts. Mr. BEGBIE'S name is not wholly unknown on this side of the Atlantic. He has appeared before our courts on different occasions. He was the owner of the blockade-runner Gertrude and the charterer of that famous vessel, the bark Springbok, the condemnation of whose innocent cargo by our court has been thought by some foreign writers cause sufficient for reclamation and reprisal, if not for war.

But it is singular that the failure of this innocent charterer of the Springbok is reported to have been caused "by heavy losses in blockade-running." So went also Mr. ZACHARIAH C. PEARSON, the blockade-running Mayor of Hull, and so doubtless will go scores more of these neutral merchants, who have been helping on the rebellion with all their power. With the closing of Wilmington their occupation was mostly gone. As JOE HOOKER said of the victories of our armies, that they "killed rebels at both ends of the line," so that victory of our army and navy may be said to have brought down our enemies on both sides of the Atlantic.

Mr. Greeley's Peace Letter.

We copied from an English paper a day or two since a letter written last Summer by Mr. GREELEY to President LINCOLN, urging him to take steps which should either lead to the conclusion of peace with the rebels of the South, or satisfy the people of the whole country that it was not his fault if the war was to be continued. It is pretty generally understood in political circles that this letter, as well as the entire series of which it forms a part, would have been published last Fall but for the President's unwillingness to have certain expressions which it contains, concerning the inability or unwillingness of the country to prolong the struggle, go to the world under the sanction of a name so influential as that of Mr. GREELEY,—and for Mr. GREELEY'S unwillingness, on the other hand, to have it published in a mutilated form. The time has probably passed when Mr. LINCOLN'S objections could have any special importance, as the determination of the country to conquer the rebellion has, since that time, been too distinctly pronounced to leave doubt in any quarter upon the subject. We see no possibility of harm being done by the publication, though we agree with the Tribune in not seeing the necessity of sending it to England for the purpose. This, however, was probably a matter of "enterprise" on the part of the correspondent.

The letter itself contains nothing specially new or important. Mr. GREELEY'S anxiety for peace and his profound appreciation of the burdens and sacrifices imposed by the war have been too often proclaimed in his own columns to leave the merit of novelty to any promulgation of them now. Perhaps he has never before been so specific concerning terms of peace as in this letter, and we presume that some of the concessions he was willing to make a year ago he would not deem either necessary or wise now. We certainly do not expect to find him advocating the payment of $400,000,000 of the rebel debt, even under the form of compensation for their slaves, as the price of peace.

Indeed we are inclined to believe that Mr. GREELEY himself is quite satisfied by this time with the turn which the Niagara Peace negotiations took. That whole affair proves to have been, in the main, a trick. There was no expectation and no purpose of peace on the part of the rebels. Their game was to make capital for the approaching Presidential election. They believed they could aid materially in electing a Democratic President, and that then they could negotiate for peace with better prospects of having something to show as the fruits of their rebellion. The whole thing proved a failure; but it is not easy to say how much mischief might not have been done if their emissaries had been allowed to visit Washington—which was the main thing they desired.

It is quite unfair, however, to criticise this letter as if it were written under existing circumstances. It is never just to hold any one responsible, at a given time, for sentiments and views formed and held under an entirely different state of things. A year ago most men would have made concessions for peace which they would not dream of now,—and if all that was privately written or said by public men on this subject then were to be published now, more surprising sentiments would probably be brought to light than any embodied in Mr. GREELEY'S letter.

The New Fire Department.

It is announced that the officers and members of the Fire Department are to meet to-night, to decide what course they shall pursue in regard to the law establishing a Paid Fire Department in place of the one now existing. There is but one course which they can pursue with any regard to their own character—and that is to accept the change, tender their services until the new department is in working order, and then turn over all their apparatus to the new authorities created by the new law. If they are what they have claimed to be, orderly and respectable citizens—aiming only at the promotion of the public interests—they will take this course. Any other would simply demonstrate what their most bitter opponents have asserted, that their organization was merely a cover for selfish and dishonest practices.

We have never assented to the sweeping and wholesale accusations which have been brought against the Volunteer Fire Department. While it has been made the cloak for abuses of the most outrageous character, and while the general influence upon the morals and manners of lads and young men has been injurious, the responsible leaders of the organization have sought to keep it free from the evils which have surrounded it. But this is simply impossible. The system itself was radically wrong. A Fire Police can no more be effectively and wisely maintained in a great city by the voluntary efforts of individuals, than any other police can. In a small town such a system is feasible, and is all that the necessities of the case require. But New-York has outgrown all that. It requires a Fire Department organized and maintained upon the same basis, working under the same restrictions, and subject to the same discipline and supervision of law, as all other departments of the municipal government. This the new law has given us, and we have no doubt that the results will vindicate the wisdom of the change.

We trust that those charged with the organization of the new Department will appreciate the responsibility of the task. We have neither the right nor the wish to advise the Governor in regard to his appointments to office, but we trust that in selecting Commissioners for the new Department he will be guided at least as much by their fitness for the place as by personal pressure or nice calculations of party policy. Probably the working force of the new organization ought to be largely made up out of the old one,—and the men who are to make these selections should be men of character, practical experience and devotion to the public good.

The City Health Bill.

In passing the Paid Fire Department Bill by so large a vote, the State Assembly has given the most practical reply possible to the scandalous imputations so widely bruited against its character. It has come to be part of the settled strategy of the lobby to charge bribery and corruption upon the opponents of any measure of importance. It is hoped in this way, apparently, to drive members into taking the action desired. On the Fire Bill both sides were remarkably industrious in this mode of argument. Possibly each side may have had some grounds for believing that the other was willing to purchase votes if any should prove to be in the market. The Assembly silenced all this clamor by passing the bill.

We hope they will now take equally prompt and effective action on the Health Bill. That is quite as important a measure for the public welfare as the Fire Bill, and the reasons for passing it are at least equally cogent. In this case, moreover, it has been proved before the investigating committee of the Senate that very large sums of money have been raised from the men holding office under the present system, for the avowed purpose of defeating it. Clerks, Health Wardens, and other officials of the City Inspector's Department, testified that their wages, for a fortnight, sometimes for a month, and sometimes for a longer time, had been stopped, in order to raise a fund for the defeat of the Health Bill in Albany.

The city officials themselves have fully conceded the necessity of some reform. They find it impossible any longer to bolster up the present system. Dr. RAMSAY'S elaborate demonstrations that no more people die annually in New-York than ought to die, have ceased to carry weight, and even Dr. SAYRE'S zealous eloquence fails to satisfy the public that no improvement in the rate of our mortality is desirable. Dr. SAYRE himself has prepared a new Health Bill, and has thus enrolled himself among the champions of change. He stood out as long as he could. Naturally enough he, as well as Dr. RAMSAY, was inclined to regard the system which pays them large fees, as the best which could possibly be devised. But when they fail to satisfy the public on this point, they naturally proceed to devise another—which shall, at least, preserve the main feature and crowning glory of the present system,—their retention in office.

Dr. SAYRE'S bill, the Legislature should understand, changes the form rather than the substance of the present system. It continues control of the health of the city in the hands of the official functionaries who control its politics. It vests in the Mayor and certain heads of departments, the duties and powers which the new Health Bill puts in the hands of a commission, a majority of which are medical men. It is to all intents and purposes a sham. Its object is to defeat the bill which promises substantial reform, and either perpetuate the present system or put one in its place which shall change it as little as possible. The action of the Legislature on the Fire Bill encourages the hope that this device will not succeed.

Prof. Eben's Concert.

Prof. EBEN, the celebrated flutist, gives a concert this evening at Irving Hall, which has more than the ordinary claims to public favor. Beside being one of the most accomplished and distinguished of living performers, Prof. EBEN has been always ready to volunteer his services for every concert given in aid of any benevolent object, and has thus sacrificed a great deal of valuable time and strength in aid of others. As a gentleman he is universally respected and esteemed. Beside his own share in the performances, his programme for this evening presents a strong array of distinguished performers; and on every account the concert will be one of the most attractive of the season.

Amusements.

ITALIAN OPERA.—The approaching complimentary benefit to Mr. MAX MARETZEK is attracting the attention of that gentleman's numerous friends and admirers. The event will take place on Tuesday, the 11th inst., and the programme will contain the entire opera of "Il Poliuto;" one act, (the third,) of "La Forza del Destino," and other miscellaneous entertainments of a high musical character. In addition to this, we learn, as an invulnerable secret which must only be imparted in strict confidence to our readers that a handsome presentation will be made to the impresario. We are glad of it. He deserves all that a liberal friendship and an intelligent public can bestow on him.

GOTTSCHALK'S CONCERTS.—Mr. GOTTSCHALK gave his final concert last night, and, as usual, Niblo's Saloon was completely filled. The weather seems to have no effect on the eager audiences who desire to pay homage to the American pianist. The programme was interpreted in the usual way—that is to say, every piece was promptly and pertinaciously encored. A pleasant episode occurred at the commencement of the second part. A gentleman stepped forward, and, after a great many more or less appropriate remarks, presented Mr. GOTTSCHALK with a silver wreath, gemmed with precious stones, in the name of the "August and imperiall capital of the western hemisphere." Mr. GOTTSCHALK was evidently embarrassed by the unexpected honor, and bowed his thanks to the audience in response to a very hearty and general salvo of applause.

To-day the Gottschalk Music Party will give an only matinée and to accomodate the masses who will attend it, the Academy of Music has prudently been secured. In the evening Mr. GOTTSCHALK plays at the Brooklyn Academy, and on Monday he takes his departure for California.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—There will be a matinée performance of "DOT" at this house to-day, with Mr. J. E. OWENS in his superb rôle of Caleb Plummer.

IRVING HALL.—A grand vocal and instrumental concert will be given here to-day, at which Mr. MAX STRAKOSCH's new artists will appear. It will be a treat to hear Mlle. DE KATOW and Mr. JAMES M. WEHLI in the well-sounding establishment of Mr. HARRISON. They have chosen an admirable selection of pieces, and will be assisted by Mrs. ADELINA MOTTE, Signor POULICCHI and Mr. BEHRENS.

MATINEE.—Mr. WOOD gives, at the Broadway Theatre, this afternoon, a second matinée performance of "The Cricket on the Hearth," commencing at 2 o'clock. OWENS' admirable personation of Caleb Plummer is conferring upon this beautiful drama an extraordinary popularity. Crowded audiences attend its every production. The piece will be repeated in the evening, also.

The Hippotheatron Matinée to-day will be positively the last Matinée on which the "Chinese Spectacle" and the brilliantly successful pantomime of "Mother Goose" will be presented, as on Monday evening they will be replaced by an entirely new and original spectacular and comic pantomime, entitled "The Fairy Prince O'Donoughue; or, the White Horse of Killarney," which is promised to be produced on a scale of unexampled splendor.

MAP OF MOBILE BAY.—G. W. TOMLINSON, No 221 Washington-street, Boston, Mass., publishes a map of Mobile Bay, which is particularly valuable at this time. It gives with great clearness minor localities not found on ordinary maps, thus enabling operations which have just been commenced to be traced intelligently.

TROWBRIDGE'S NEW BOOK.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column of Mr. TROWBRIDGE's new war story, The Three Scouts, published by J. E. TILTON & Co., Boston.

BROOKLYN MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—At the annual meeting of the Mercantile Library Association, recently held, the treasurer's report showed that the receipts were, from all sources, $7,576 87—the expenditures $6,576 85; cash in bank, $600, leaving a balance on hand of $100 02.

SPORTING.

We, the undersigned, to whom was referred a wager, between Mr. C. A. Bristed, of this city, and Mr. ——, of Williamsburgh, respecting the correctness of an expression pronounced by Wilkes' Spirit to be ungrammatical, have decided, without finding it necessary to call in a third judge, that Mr. Bristed has won his bet. The expression, "there is a billiard match between him and me," is grammatical, and the misprint of "brilliant" for "billiard" in the Times' advertisement does not affect the grammar.

IN HOC VINCES.

ROMAINE'S CRIMEAN BITTERS.

In the brief period of time which has elapsed since its introduction to the public, this invaluable

TONIC AND ALTERATIVE

has secured an unprecedented amount of commendation voluntarily rendered by Burgeons of the U. S. Army, and persons of large intelligence and high social position. A number of prominent physicians of New-York, adjacent cities and elsewhere, also having become personally aware of its merits, they not only freely recommend it, but their names appear on our list of orders. If to every one was imparted the formula or list of ingredients of which our article is composed, the high reputation it has acquired would not occasion surprise, for it embraces a number of vegetable materials mostly from the Tropics of Asia and America, while a scientific and practical knowledge only would qualify for combining, in order to obtain the object in view, viz.: a powerful

TONIC AND ALTERATIVE.

FOR DYSPEPSIA,

WITH ITS ATTENDANT TRAIN OF EVILS,

Indigestion,	Costiveness,
Nausea,	Diarrhœa,
Loss of Appetite,	Sick-Headache,
Lowness of Spirits,	Lassitude,
Flatulence,	General Debility,

No other similar compound has equaled it.

It REGULATES THE BOWELS, CORRECTS MORBID SECRETIONS, and therefore tends to PURIFY THE BLOOD.

Our numerous testimonials, verbal and written, state that one or two bottles have restored, or essentially relieved, patients whose digestive organs have been impaired for years. All the proprietors ask, is persistence in the use of two bottles to satisfy the most skeptical of the truth of our statements.

FOR FEVER AND AGUE

Crimean Bitters have proved the most prompt and thorough remedy known—successful when quinine has failed, as determined by trials in the United States Hospitals of Newark, N. J., Fort Hamilton, N. Y., and Beaufort, S. C., and numerous cases everywhere. The bitters are warranted to arrest the chills the first day, and, in brief time, expel the disease from the system so thoroughly that no renewal follows, if the directions for use are strictly adhered to.

For light forms of

NEURALGIA AND RHEUMATISM,

the Bitters act as a prompt cure. Testimonials from persons well known for veracity and respectability, ratify this statement beyond doubt.

CRIMEAN BITTERS are especially suited to relieve the

INFIRMITIES OF AGE,

DEBILITATED AND CONVALESCENT,

as the article contains ingredients which act as a powerful EXHILARANT TONIC, followed by no stupifying reaction. The debilitated resort to the poisoned and drugged liquors of the day, which only fire the brain for a brief time, but are surely followed by stupor and other reactions, and loss rather than gain of energy of body and mind. That NO REACTION follows the use of Crimean Bitters is due to several ingredients used, and to their original and unique combination.

CLERGYMEN, STUDENTS,

and all persons of SEDENTARY HABITS, will look in vain for anything of an exhilarant nature so well suited to their requirements. Their use begets no appetite for ardent spirits, and impart and sustain strength to body and mind.

Our testimonials emanate from SURGEONS U. S. ARMY, and many others largely known to the public, covering two pages of our circular, and which also contains directions for use.

Sold by Druggists everywhere.

FAIRS.

NORTHWESTERN FAIR.
CHICAGO, JUNE, 1865.

The people of the Northwest have entered upon this undertaking with renewed warmth, and unabated enthusiasm, finding by experience that a fair which in the Eastern cities has become rather a hackneyed institution, is in the great agricultural West, the most appropriate means of making its peculiar resources available for the benefit of the soldiers through the Sanitary Commission. Their request for aid from the City of New-York is limited and modest. They desire contributions of such works of art as pictures, statuary, jewelry and fancy articles, new or second hand, which will be fully appreciated and greatly valued in the West, where the pioneer population, constantly obliged to deal with nature, have had little opportunity to gratify their taste for art. The following committees have been organized for this city. It is requested that contributions of every kind shall be sent in before the 20th of April next. Contributions in money will be invested here in the above-mentioned articles, as being the most profitable shape in which they can be transmitted:

MRS. DAVID LANE, Chairman.
MISS MILLER, Secretary.
JAMES A. ROOSEVELT, Treasurer.

Committee on Drygoods and Finance—Mrs. David Lane, Mrs. R. M. Hunt; Architectural Ornaments, Mrs. Henry A. Coit; India-rubber, Mrs. C. Degen; Curiosities, Mrs. Laura Gibbs; Books and Stationery, Mrs. Marcus Spring; Jewelry and Fancy Articles, Mrs. R. M. Blatchford, Mrs. S. Weir Roosevelt; Toys, Mrs. G. G. Cornell; Millinery, Miss Gardiner.

Donations in money will be received by JAMES A. ROOSEVELT, Treasurer, No. 94 Maiden-lane. Contributions in kind should be sent to the rooms of the United States Sanitary Commission, No. 823 Broadway, up stairs.

WINTER GARDEN.
TO-NIGHT AND EVERY NIGHT.
THE GRAND MILITARY DRAMA,
Illustrative of
CAMP SCENES, AND
THE TRIALS OF A SOLDIER'S LIFE,
by S. H. Fink, entitled
CORPORAL CARTOUCHE,
nightly received with
UNBOUNDED ENTHUSIASM AND DELIGHT.
IT ACHIEVED A VERY DECIDED SUCCESS, EXCITING THE INTEREST OF A DEMONSTRATIVE AUDIENCE, AND TIMES ELICITING THE MOST VOCIFEROUS APPLAUSE.—New-York Herald.
WITH ITS
BRILLIANT COSTUMES,
ITS BEAUTIFUL ORIGINAL MUSIC, by Robert Stoepel,
And its SPLENDID SCENERY, by Witham.
The scenery, by the very able artist of the establishment, Mr. WITHAM, IS SPLENDID. THE BRILLIANCY OF THE FIRST SCENE—WITH THE DISTANT VIEW OF THE CITY OF ULM—IS ONLY EQUALED BY THE PICTURESQUE CHARM OF THAT WHICH SUCCEEDS IT—THE VILLAGE OF ST. LAURENT. THE LATTER, INDEED, IS IN ALL RESPECTS THE BEST EXAMPLE OF SCENE PAINTING WE HAVE EVER SEEN ON THE NEW-YORK STAGE.—New-York Times.
CORPORAL CARTOUCHE,
A SOLDIER OF NAPOLEON,
MR. HENRY PLACIDE.
MR. PLACIDE'S
PERFORMANCE LAST SATURDAY EVENING ESTABLISHED THE SUCCESS OF THE PLAY. IT WAS REMARKABLE FOR ITS EARNEST FEELING AND ITS THOROUGH SINCERITY AND DEVOTION. THE AUDIENCE TESTIFIED THE UTMOST APPRECIATION OF HIS ACTING AT EVERY POINT. HE WAS ENERGETICALLY APPLAUDED THROUGHOUT—NOT LESS IN THE JAUNTY SCENES OF THE OPENING ACT THAN IN HIS PORTRAYAL OF MUTE ANGUISH AND DESPAIR TOWARD THE CLOSE, AND WAS TWICE COMPLIMENTED BY A CALL BEFORE THE CURTAIN.—New-York Tribune.
The other characters by Messrs. J. G. HANLEY, WALCOT, CLARKE, KEMBLE MASON, FAWCETT, EBERLE, Master ALF. CLIFTON, MARY CARR; Mesdames SEDLEY BROWN, and WALCOT, Jr.
The other characters in the piece were generally well represented—some of them even admirably. Miss Ada Clifton, as Nina de Rantzberg, showed all the necessary dignity and delicacy. Mrs. Walcot made the part of Genevieve, a most interesting picture of youthful innocence and gentleness. Miss Carr did not suffer the brevity of her role to interfere with the spirit of its interpretation. Mrs. Sedley Brown's performance was a special feature. The character of Marietta seemed to give her the best opportunity of the season for displaying her lively and vivacious qualities. No better soubrette of its kind has been seen upon our stage; and we do not at present recall another instance of equal picturesqueness, and at the same time equal fidelity, in the important matter of costumes. Miss Glassford, the little child who appeared in the first act, fulfilled her short part with winning frankness and intelligence.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE DRAFT.

The Wheel in Motion Yesterday, and to Revolve Again To-Day—The Ward Meetings Last Night—Recruiting Still Slow.

Drafting continued, yesterday, only in the Fifth District, in which the Tenth Ward was finished. The work was suspended in the Ninth District. Capt. Dunmire being, as was reported, in consultation with Maj. Dodge. Further drafting has been ordered in the Fifth District, (Seventh Ward,) Seventh District, (Eleventh Ward,) and Eighth District, (Twenty-first Ward).

Recruiting does not prosper. Volunteers enlisted on the 29th, 55; substitutes, 32; total 88. So far as we could reach the returns yesterday, only 46 enlisted. There is $70,000 ready for substitutes in the hands of the County Volunteer Committee, but not much for volunteers. Gen. Arthur, collecting for the committee, obtained, yesterday, subscriptions, as follows:

Bank of the Republic	$5,000
Union Bank	10,000
Security Insurance Company	20,000
William Oothou	100
Total	$35,000

There was paid into the Comptrollers office, yesterday, $51,000, in all, for the recruiting fund. The Bounty Committee, considering their shortness of funds, yesterday came to a formal resolution in future not to enlist any volunteer for over a year; substitutes, however, can be taken for one, two or three years. For these one-year volunteers, the bounty is $300 and the hand-money $50.

The State Paymaster-General has issued a caution as to claims on the State for repayment of bounties advanced by towns, counties, &c. He will pay such claims only to the legally authorized representatives of such towns, &c.

A special meeting of the Central Committee in Equalizing Hand-money, is to be held this evening, at Provost-Marshal Cozzen's office, No. 185 Sixth-avenue, at 8 p. m. Punctual attendance by all the members is especially urged.

The precautions observed by Lieut. Ward in the Fifth Ward, against irregularities in drafting, are worth mentioning. He appoints, every morning, a few prominent citizens of the ward to place the ballots in the wheel, and at the end of the day's work they are boxed, sealed by the Lieutenant, and placed in charge of the Fourteenth Precinct Police, Capt. Williamson.

There are, it would seem, some parts of the city where the interest in drafting matters is not quite high enough yet. We have heard of at least one ward committee whose members say that if the citizens of the ward do not give them more support, they will be obliged to dissolve their organizations.

A curious instance of imperfection in the enrollment and of freakishness in the draft occurred at No. 120 Orchard-street, in the Fifth District. Here there were four persons liable to draft and three exempt. Tae four escaped, and the three were drawn. Two of them were father and son, one above and the other under the age of legal liability.

THE FIFTH WARD VOLUNTEERING COMMITTEE were hard at work last evening at Laird's Fifth Ward Hotel, completing the preparation of a formal circular, which is to be sent this morning to every citizen of the ward whose name is on the enrollment list. This circular, which is an appeal to citizens to put a shoulder to the wheel and in filling the quota at once, has already appeared in the Times. The committee have raised more than $3,000 thus far and are confident that if every man will contribute according to his means a draft may be avoided. Forty recruits have been secured, eight of whom were taken yesterday. A mass meeting of citizens is to be held at Laird's Fifth Ward Hotel.

Ward meetings are still held every evening and are unusually well attended. We append reports of those last evening.

MEETING IN THE THIRD WARD.

The Third Ward Volunteering Association met last evening at Mr. Alexander Matthews' hall, Barclay-street, corner of Greenwich. Mr. John Callahan was called to the chair. Mr. J. J. Taylor, from the Finance Committee, reported that that they had secured a ball at No. 193 Fulton-street, in which to hold a mass meeting on Monday evening next, and that No. 221 Greenwich-street had been engaged as a recruiting office for the ward. Mr. Wellbrook, from the Committee on Subscriptions, reported the receipt of $665. It was voted that only those persons who attend the meeting and affix their signatures to the roll be considered members of the association. Mr. J. J. Costa, delegate to the meeting of ward delegates, reported that it had been resolved that no ward should offer more than $50 hand-money. He had heard that a broker stands ready to fill the quota of the ward if the citizens will deal with him liberally. Mr. Costa thought it would require $6,700 to pay $50 each for volunteers sufficient to release the ward from a draft. A subscription paper among gentlemen present having been proposed, twenty-eight gentlemen subscribed $745, and the association adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

MEETING IN THE TENTH WARD.

An adjourned meeting of the citizens of the Tenth Ward was held at Essex Market, last evening, for the purpose of obtaining subscriptions. John Hayward presided, and speeches were made by Dr. Wehman, Philip F. Smith and George Saonegar, who urged upon those present the necessity of immediate action if they would free those already drawn from the necessity of serving. A subscription list was opened, and the result of two evenings' contributions was about $3,500.

MEETING IN THE SEVENTEENTH WARD.

A meeting of the residents of the Seventeenth Ward was held, last evening, at the corner of Fifth-avenue and Eleventh-street, for the purpose of encouraging enlistments.

Mr. C. G. Cornell was elected chairman, and briefly explained the objects of the meeting. He said that during the day he, with others, had called on the Provost-Marshal-General and requested a postponement of the draft. Maj. Dodge replied that his orders were peremptory, and that the draft must proceed unless the Provost-Marshal of the district was kept busy. During the day the speaker had visited many of the wealthy men of the ward to induce them to procure substitutes, but without much success. It was exceedingly important that all classes of citizens should join in the movement, and free the ward from draft. Last evening a meeting of the sub-committee was held, at which enough money was pledged to keep the Provost-Marshal busy for several days, if the Comptroller would guarantee that the money would be credited to the Seventeenth Ward. A committee will visit the Comptroller this morning, and if the assurances of that officer are satisfactory, the Provost-Marshal will be kept busy for several days, and the draft postponed.

Michael Hahn said that every enrolled man should be willing to pay $10. There were many men in the ward who were not liable, who would save money if they could avoid the draft by paying $10. If drawn from the wheel, the loss of time and expense of getting the exemption papers, would cost more than $10. The speaker paid a well-merited compliment to Capt. Wagner, who, he said, was an excellent officer, and had done much toward aiding recruiting in the district.

Mr. G. F. Steinbrenner said he was surprised at the apathy which prevailed in the ward at this momentous time. Unless immediate action was taken the draft was inevitable. There was no necessity for a draft if each enrolled man would come forward and contribute $10. He was satisfied that if by the 1st of May the ward raised 300 men there would be no draft.

Mr. A. G. Fay said the Provost-Marshal had informed him that if seven hundred and fifty men were raised in the ward, the draft would be entirely suspended.

Speeches were also made by James C. Burnet, Bernard Riley, when a subscription list was opened, and a large sum pledged.

MEETING IN THE FIFTEENTH WARD.

This meeting was held in Hope Chapel, No. 702 Broadway, at 8 P. M., and was thinly attended. Capt. C. H. Marshall was chosen Chairman, with a strong staff of Vice-Presidents and Secretaries. Remarks were made by Messrs. F. A. Conkling, E. C. Benedict and Orison Blunt. Mr. Conkling argued in favor of volunteering rather than drafting to fill the quota; claimed that the city quota was excessive, and cited figures to show it, but he urged earnest labor to supply the men, even we should have to furnish rather too many.

Mr. Benedict was in favor of trying to induce the government to cancel wholly the present draft, and begin again at a future period, so as to give time for volunteering. He also argued at considerable length that it was not disagreeable or painful at all to be wounded or lose limbs.

Mr. Blunt stated in a plain, clear and forcible way how the case stands with drafted men and with his committee, and asked for money subscriptions.

The action of the meeting in the appointment of an executive and finance committee of twelve, to take charge of the business for the ward. This committee was notified by Mr. Conkling, the chairman, to meet this noon at the Park recruiting office. A resolution was also passed, which was offered by Mr. Benedict, that this committee endeavor to induce the government to cancel the present draft. The meeting adjourned to next Wednesday evening at the same hour and place, to receive the report of their committee.

MEETING IN THE TWENTY-SECOND WARD.

Last night the hall, corner of Forty-seven-street and Broadway, New-York, was filled by a large concourse of the inhabitants of the Seventh District, to take measures to relieve the conscripted men in that ward by filling the quota.

The meeting was called to order by the President of the Association of the Twenty-second Ward, Judge Connelly, who stated that the meeting was called to increase the efforts hitherto made to fill the quota of the ward, and to aid those men who are already conscripted.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions stating the sentiment of the meeting, consisting of Col. Jesse Masser, Jonas Sparks, and Richard D. Goaswin. Ex-Alderman N. C. Ely was then introduced to the meeting, who spoke of the necessity of immediate action in this affair.

Hon. Wm. A. Darling succeeded him in quite a stirring appeal to the audience. He spoke more at length concerning those men who were poor and not able to obtain substitutes, and who had large families dependent upon them. These men ought to be aided by money. Every man in the ward ought to consider himself a recruiting agent, and work for himself and neighbors. He hoped that no drafted man will be called upon. "We are now," he said, "in a condition of society that tests the true man, to see what he will do for other men and for his country. I hope that this is the last call the country will make upon its citizens. I believe that the accursed rebellion will soon beat its back track, and that the lawful authority of the United States will extend throughout the land, and that the people who have seduced a part of this country into a rebellion and bloodshed may meet their just deserts."

Rev. W. H. Boole, D. D., delivered quite an urgent appeal to those assembled, speaking of his own experience in the army, which he was compelled to leave on account of injuries received. He divided the people of the district into three parties:

1. Those who have the money to procure substitutes, and also enough to give their poorer friends, these ought to spare to their utmost in this most holy cause—these are the favored ones.

2. Those who can furnish substitutes by working—these ought to put forth all their energies and assist those having money.

3. Those who neither have money nor are able to induce men to substitute—this is the class which needs all the support that can be given by the ward. All generous-hearted men will assist in alleviating the already straitened circumstances of this class.

Subscriptions were then called for, which was responded to quite freely—$2,500 being collected.

Seven gentlemen exoressed their intention to furnish a substitute apiece.

After a few short speeches from several other gentlemen, the meeting adjourned until Monday evening, April 3, at 8 o'clock.

The Board of Aldermen.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT—THE MAYOR SUGGESTS THAT A NEW BOUNTY LOAN OF TWENTY MILLIONS BE RAISED—THE GAS QUESTION.

This board met at 2 P. M. yesterday, Mr. Masterson in the chair.

A petition was received from the President of the Long Island Bone Laboratory, asking that the contract now existing between the City Inspector and John Green, for the removal of dead animals from the city be annulled, and the same awarded to them, the petitioners offering to do the work for $15,000 per annum, instead of $18,000, as now paid.

The petition was referred to the Committee on Public Health.

The following communication was received from the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, March 31.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN: In view of the rigorous conscription now in progress of enforcement, and the evils which may ensue therefrom, I consider it my duty to recommend your Honorable Body to apply to the Legislature for authority to issue bonds, based on the credit of the corporation, to the amount of twenty millions of dollars, for the purpose of raising means to secure volunteers, and thus alleviate the burden of military service, now so unequally imposed, and prevent the distress and horrors that must follow the execution of a measure that seems otherwise inevitable. I am in the hourly receipt of communications from poor mechanics and laboring men, who have been drafted, lamenting the fate which will compel them to leave behind destitute and suffering families.

C. GODFREY GUNTHER, Mayor.

It was referred to the Committee on National Affairs.

The board shortly afterward took a recess, and on reassembling the following communication was presented from the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department:

OFFICE CHIEF ENGINEER FIRE DEPARTMENT, NEW-YORK, March 31, 1865.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN: The Legislature of this State has passed an act creating a Metropolitan Paid Fire Department in the City and County of New-York. Said act authorizes the Governor to appoint four Commissioners, who shall take possession of all property, apparatus, tools, implements, &c., now in possession of the present department.

All property, apparatus, &c., being under the sole control of your Honorable Body, I await your instructions before taking any action in this matter.

Anticipating an early reply, I remain, &c., &c.,

JOHN DECKER,
Chief-Engineer Fire Department.

Mr. Jeremiah offered the following resolution in connection therewith:

Resolved, If the Councilmen concur, that a special committee of three from each Board be, and they are hereby appointed, to take the matter into consideration included in the communication of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department in reference to the Act of the Legislature constituting a new Metropolitan Fire Commission, with full power to take such action as the emergencies and proprieties of the subject may require.

The resolution was adopted, and Messrs. Jeremiah, Ryers and Gedney were appointed on such committee.

A further resolution was also presented by Mr. Jeremiah, urging the officers and members of the Fire Department to still continue their former energetic and humane efforts in wresting on all occasions, as heretofore, the progress of the devouring element and saving the lives and property of our citizens. It was adopted.

Mr. Ryers presented a resolution requesting the Board of Supervisors to empower the County Volunteer Committee to appoint a paymaster for each Congressional District, to be stationed at the Provost-Marshal's office of such district, for the purpose of paying the county hand-money of $100 to such recruits as the citizens of the several ward organizations may offer. It was adopted.

A communication was received from the Mayor, stating that the Harlem Gaslight Company intend to raise the price of their gas, after the 1st of April, unless the city enters into a contract with the company.

In connection therewith, Mr. Ottiwell offered a resolution directing the Street Commissioner to discontinue the use of each alternate lamp in the district lighted by the Harlem Gaslight Company.

Mr. Ottiwell stated, in explanation, that there were more lamps in proportion, in this district, than in any other, and that many of them were so situated that they were perfectly useless.

The resolution was laid over, and the board adjourned to Monday next, at 2 P. M.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Action of the Chief-Engineer, the Police Department and the Board of Aldermen—Engine Houses Closed—The Mayor's Proclamation.

Although considerable excitement exists among the firemen in relation to the passage of the Paid Fire Department Bill, the majority of them appear disposed to submit quietly to the law, continuing to exercise their functions only until such time as the ultimate action of the authorities may be made known. Yesterday a number of prominent firemen called on the Mayor and requested him to issue such a notice as might have the effect of allaying the excitement existing among the members of the department, and quieting any fears that might have arisen in the public mind. The Mayor accordingly issued the following

PROCLAMATION.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, March 31, 1865.

Whereas, A bill has been passed by the Legislature of this State, making certain changes in the Fire Department of this city, and establishing a Metropolitan Fire District, which will doubtless be approved by the Governor and become a law. Now I, C. Godfrey Gunther, Mayor of the City of New-York, do hereby earnestly recommend to the members of the Fire Department of this city and the citizens generally, not to listen to the suggestions which may be made by ill-advised or designing individuals, but faithfully to obey the laws of the land and the directions of the officers of the department, and others in authority, to continue to perform all the duties incumbent on them as members thereof; to abstain from all demonstrations which may be considered as leading to disorder; to watch over and protect the public property intrusted to their care, and to act in all respects worthy of the dignity and high character of the firemen of New-York. To my former associates and friends I appeal not to tarnish, by any imprudent act, the noble record of the department, but to let its conclusion be marked by the same devotion to law that has attended its past honorable career of usefulness.

C. GODFREY GUNTHER, Mayor.

The only companies that have abandoned their apparatus and closed the doors of their houses are Engines Nos. 5 and 33, and No. 55 Hose. The others, with a few exceptions, express their intention of assisting at any fires that may occur in their immediate neighborhood, but not of putting themselves out of the way by running to distant ones. About 9 o'clock yesterday morning, at an alarm of fire in the Second District, only four companies were present, instead of from twenty to twenty-five as is usually the case. In fact, only those in immediate proximity to the fire turned out.

Yesterday morning the "bunkers," almost to a man, carried off their clothes and other effects from the different engine-houses, being evidently under the impression that they might as well do it then as a few hours or days later. Mr. John Decker, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, is now in Albany, but will return to-night, when a meeting of the department will take place at Firemen's Hall, in Mercer-street. Yesterday, Mr. Decker sent in a communication to the Common Council, calling their attention to the fact that the Paid Fire Department Bill had passed, and that he awaited their action in the matter. The Board of Aldermen, as will be seen in the report of their proceedings, appointed a committee to act with a committee of the other board and to take such action in the matter as circumstances may require. At the same time the board and the Chief Engineer have requested the firemen to continue in the performance of their duties until such time, at least, as the bill may receive the Governor's sanction. No disturbance need be anticipated, except, perhaps, in case of a fire, when it is possible that a few of the disaffected, who are fortunately in a very small minority, may attempt some demonstration. But the police are fully prepared for all this, and also to take charge of the apparatus and to assist at any fires at which their services may be required.

Gold was steady on the call. Stocks were not very strong. Sales of Gold, after the call, were made at 151¼, at which it stood at the close of report, 9:30 P. M.

FRIDAY, March 30, P. M.

The Stock Exchange held but one session to-day, adjourning over at 12 o'clock, to afford the members of the Board the opportunity to attend the funeral of the late Jacob Little, from Grace Church, this afternoon.

There was a large business done in the morning in the New-York and Western Railroads at an advance of 3@5 per cent. on Thursday's sales. The bidding was very spirited and the rise quite rapid on New-York Central, Erie, Fort Wayne, &c., and differences of ¼@1 per cent. were paid in favor of cash Stock for this day's delivery. The general feeling in the market was more decidedly Bullish than since the first of the week, and good buyers again appeared at the Board for nearly all the Railways.

For Government Stocks the demand was also on a liberal scale, both at the Board and on Wall-street, the old issue of 5-20s having the preference, on account of some further European orders, without limit as to price, telegraphed from the Halifax and Boston steamer.

The Brokers are borrowing Money, at call, at 6 ₩ cent., and in some instances large balances have been placed with the strong Stock firms in the Street as cheap as 5 ₩ cent.—of course, only from day to day, or until a better interest or some available investment can be had by the lenders. The chief employment at present is on United States Stocks, which are being freely taken up, by some of the leading houses for an early advance in prices. The Railway Stocks speculated in have been so heavily oversold, since the panic of last week, that they are easily lent out on deliveries postponed, instead of being borrowed on by the Brokers operating for the upward turn. There is also less Money borrowed on Gold since the recent rapid decline to 150 ₩ cent., and this speculation altogether is growing tame, and subject to only 1@2 ₩ cent. daily fluctuations, in place of 4@5, and frequently even 8@10 ₩ cent., some weeks ago. There would be no general regret felt, and probably some considerable rejoicing manifested if the Gold Room were broken up altogether, and the buying and selling again transferred to the regular Stock Exchange, where the Importers and Bankers, when they have Gold to buy, would be sure to have their orders fairly executed; and where even speculators, whether for the rise or fall, could make their contracts, or cause them to be made, with greater assurance of responsibility and promptness than at present.

The Gold Room was one per cent. firmer than yesterday; the sales ranged 151¼@152¼ ₩ cent. Bills on London for Saturday's mail, 109¼. Gold rate, Bankers' signatures. A moderate business done. At this rate, and with a good offering of miscellaneous Bills, some of them perhaps drawn against American balances held in England, &c., since Gold took the great rise of last year, there is scarcely any Export demand for Gold Coin, and no immediate prospect of it.

On the Street at 3 o'clock there was a further rise on the New-York and Western Roads, and a firm market generally. Gold, on the contrary, fell back to 151¼ ₩ cent.

☞ U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the

SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of June 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 SIX PER CENT
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are worth a premium, which increases the actual profit on the 7-30 Loan, and its exemption from State and municipal taxation adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable in currency semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to
One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents per day on a $100 note.
Ten cents per day on a $500 note.
Twenty cents per day on a $1,000 note.
$4 per day on a $5,000 note.

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions, and the notes orwarded at once. The interest to 15th June next will be paid in advance. This is now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National banks, State banks, and private bankers throughout the country, have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

Subscription Agent, Philadelphia.
